

Major Suppliers Online Stock Availability Information

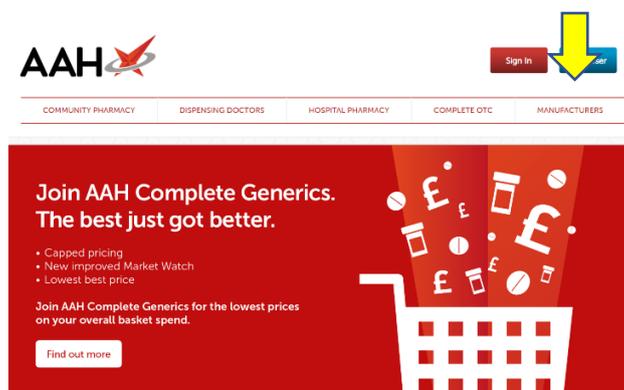

Due to the ongoing problem of stock shortages, it is increasingly necessary to spend time checking for out of stock information with wholesalers.

Below are instructions on how to sign up to the online services of the major wholesalers. This gives instant and up to date information concerning stock availability and, if used correctly, is significantly quicker than phoning for the same information. These websites have other information such as pricing and ordering functions and information on these functions is available from wholesalers. This document concentrates solely on availability information. Here's how to sign up for AAH, Alliance (p4) and Phoenix (p5).

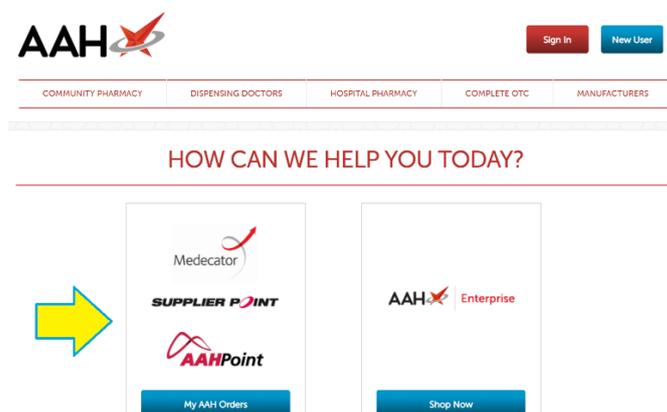

AAH

You may already have sign in details for this and it's probably the last 8 numbers and 1 letter of your account no, so if your account no is 201D/12345678A it's 12345678A and that's also your password. But make sure you use a capital letter at the end. If this doesn't work, please call AAH customer services and they will help you get your log in details.

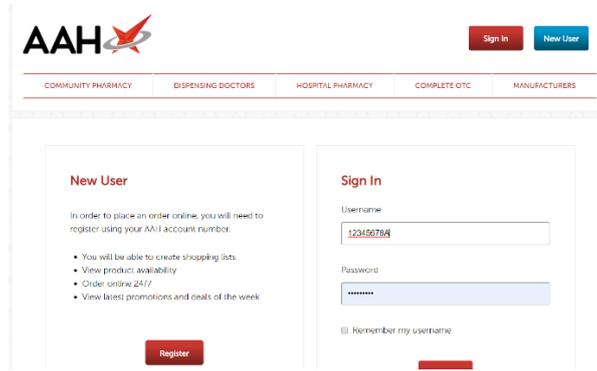

Go to AAH.co.uk and click on sign in:

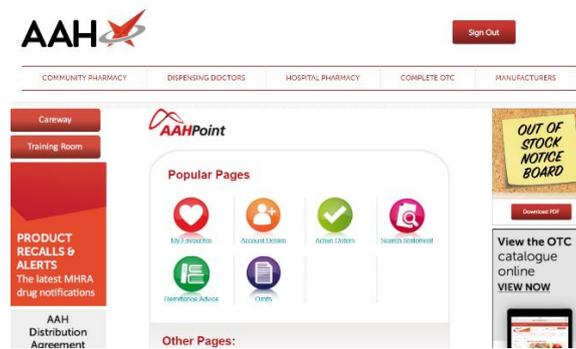

Then click on AAH Point:
